Dr. Herskowitz has enjoyed a private practice in Fort Lauderdale for over fifteen years in the specialty of Cardiovascular and Thoracic Surgery. Currently he is the Chief of Cardiovascular Surgery at Broward General Medical Center. Dr. Herskowitz has performed more than 4,000 cardiovascular surgical procedures and is a leading expert in the field of minimally invasive Aortic and Mitral valve surgery, as well as off-pump beating heart surgery. His other areas of expertise include endovascular stent grafting for abdominal and thoracic aneurysms and peripheral vascular surgery.

He is the principal investigator on numerous research projects and has lectured and published extensively on heart and lung surgery. He has consistently had one of the lowest morbidities and mortalities in the state of Florida as well as in the United States. He was recently honored as the American Heart Associations 2007 honoree for outstanding contributions to Cardiac Surgery in South Florida.
